

Map Layer: Land Use Designation

In the City of Ventura's Planning Area, the governing Land Use Designation is, for the most part, defined by the 2005 General Plan. However, since the 2005 General Plan has not yet been fully certified by the California Coastal Commission as part of the Local Coastal Plan, within the Coastal Zone, the 1989 Comprehensive Plan is still the applicable plan.

Where you see 'GP = designation', the General Plan is the applicable plan. Click on the following link for more information on the General Plan:

<https://www.cityofventura.ca.gov/485/General-Plan>

Where you see 'CP = designation', the Comprehensive Plan is the applicable plan. Click on the following link for more information on the Comprehensive Plan:

<https://www.cityofventura.ca.gov/documentcenter/view/1801>